Jugtown Residents Proud of Their Unique Little Neighborhood

Stringfellow Barr, the former president of St. John's college, once said that Wilton Street was the most cosmopolitan street he had ever seen.

Wilton and its neighbors--Markham, Pelham, Patton, Sergeant –constitute a unique little neighborhood-within-a-neighborhood that is almost a microcosm of the greater Princeton community, lacking perhaps, only the greater wealth found elsewhere.

Broadly speaking, the neighborhood is Jugtown whose hub is the Nassau-Harrison intersection.

"...but when we had our picnic earlier this summer," laughs Sharon Powell, 36 Markham, "somebody suggested we call ourselves 'Jugtown Heights.'"

Fiercely proud and protective of their neighborhood, residents decided at that picnic to join their voices in protest over what they regarded as hazardous conditions around the unfinished Sheehan Building on the corner of Nassau and Markham. Mr. Sheehan is now preparing a board fence to enclose the property.

About 100 people went to the picnic, strolled around the section of Sergeant blocked off for the occasion, and met people they'd never known, or hadn't seen in 30 years.

"The secret of being a good neighbor is not to see too much of one another," is the firm belief of Mme. Alice Archer, French-born French teacher who came to Princeton 57 years ago and has lived in the snug little house at 25 Wilton since 1948. Walking her toy poodle, Tania, is almost her only neighborhood contact.

"This is a very private neighborhood, of very private people," says Mrs. John J. Fischer, who has lived in the Georgian brick house on the corner of Nassau and Wilton, for 25 years. "I only met Mme. Archer a few years ago, in spite of all the time we've both been here, and we both commented on how unusual that was."

Mrs. Fischer recalls that for many years, there was town-gown coolness on the streets, with "gown" extended to include college graduates or commuters. Even her husband, who grew up in Princeton as the son of Jacob Fischer, the German tailor who used to tailor for Einstein, was regarded with a wary eye.

"I myself was highly unacceptable–people just automatically assumed I was a snob. But we saw each other because our kids were growing up together, and we'd meet on the streets. We aren't outside as much now, with our kids grown, so we don't see each other as often."

Organizing the picnic, Mrs. Powell went from door to door, and she found that people had stayed

Regional Citizens Committee May Be Formed To Fight Final Battle Against I-95 Extension

I-95, which snakes through the dreams and nightmares of local officials even as they're driving home from vacation on some other Interstate, may be the focus of a new regional citizens committee.

Last Thursday, in the course of a meeting called by the Lawrence Township Concerned Citizens to Study I-95 problems, members of the "Citizens" suggested a federation of groups opposing the extension of I-95.

In Princeton, Township officials have traditionally opposed I-95 and most recently, have suggested that the New Jersey Turnpike be I-95 in this area. With Township Committee in informal recess and Mayor Josie Hall on vacation, it is not known whether the Township would join in such a federation.

"It doesn't make any difference where they build I-95," declared Harry Beskind, chairman of the Concerned Citizens on Thursday night. "It will affect all of central New Jersey."

Dr. Beskind said he envisioned the proposed federation as a study group, rather than a lobbying organization against the Interstate, although all the municipalities invited--Princeton Township, Hopewell, Lawrence, Montgomery, Franklin, Piscataway and Hillsborough townships--are opposed to I-95 except Hillsborough and Franklin.

Four Possible Routes. In July, the state's Department of Transportation told residents and officials in the area at a series of public meetings, that it had reduced its options to four alternative routes. One would take I-95 through Lawrence Township, as well as Hopewell, thereby rousing the Concerned Citizens.

At Thursday night's meeting, the audience of about 100 heard a panel consisting of Samuel M. Hamil Jr., of the Middlesex Somerset Mercer Regional Study Council; Louis Terpening, of Hopewell, who has been an I-95 opponent for many years; Dennis Kech of the DOT; Pat DiAngelo, president of the Lawrence Township Taxpayers Association and Dorothy Bayless, head of Lawrence's Conservation Advisory Commission.

DOT officials told the gathering they expected to finish a $2 million environmental impact study of I-95 early next year. Even after it has been completed, they said, it will take another two years to decide on a final route.

Mr. Terpening repeated his belief that traffic on Route One and Route 206 could be relieved if the Turnpike were widened. Other speakers agreed with him.

According to the MSM Study Council, the fundamental issue is whether the DOT will broaden the scope of its I-95 studies to include what the MSM calls "the real alternatives" to I-95: use of the Turnpike for interstate traffic, combined with the upgrading of some local roads to accommodate the needs of local communities.

MSM has also said -- and the concern was repeated by others on Thursday – that any study might show how I-95 would affect the economy, demography and environment of urban centers like Trenton, Ewing, Hamilton and Lawrence.

If access to rural areas is provided by I-95, MSM warns, people will find it easier to abandon the big, older cities for new homes in the suburbs or the country.

In addition, MSM wants "a broad regional transportation review," which it says has worked out well in both Boston and New Orleans when controversial projects like I-95 were under consideration. With that in mind, it has asked the chief executives of the Delaware Valley Regional Planning Commission and the Tri-State Regional Planning Commission, to set up a special study group to work with the already-established I-95 Technical Advisory Committee and the DOT.

Under Federal law, money now being held for Interstates can be transferred to any other transportation project that would be eligible for Federal aid, MSM points out. This includes improving roads in the Federal-aid system, public transportation, bike paths and the like.

Before transfers like these can be made, however, an Interstate must be "de-designated" by the Secretary of Transportation, with the agreement of whatever local governments are affected. Projects to which money would be transferred, must also have local approval.

MSM -- which has not taken a "pro" or "con" position on I-95 – would like to widen the discussions beyond I-95 itself and consider how this money could be used throughout central New Jersey.

THE VERSATILE, DELIGHTFUL VOUVRAY WHITE WINE

Vouvray (Voo-vray) is perhaps the best known of the white wines from the Loire Valley of France. Vouvray is a versatile wine, and can be a bone-dry, a fruity or even a rich luscious wine, comparable to a great Sauterne or German Auslese wine. Vouvray can also be a true sparkling wine, all of these depending on the cellar treatment and its vintage. Vouvray is made entirely from the Chenin Blanc (Shay-nan Blawn) grape, also known as the Pineau de la Loire (Pee-no duh la Lwahr) and is a delightful wine that is sure to please the most discriminating palate.

close, hadn't met one another for a long time or the newcomers, ever. The area is not a place, in spite of the closeness of its houses, where people congregate outdoors.

"But everybody is very proud of lawns and gardens," Mrs. Powell found, after she and her husband and two toddlers moved to Markham almost three years ago, "so you do meet neighbors while you're raking leaves or working in the garden."

"My daughter-in-law has a beautiful garden," is the proud comment of Mrs. Emmy Rollings, 16 Pelham. Her son, George Rollings Jr., and his wife live directly behind her at 110 Patton. Mr. Rollings, who is a plumber, is one of the two former fire chiefs who live in the neighborhood. The other is Carl Schafer Sr., who lives across Pelham from Mrs. Rollings Sr.

A slim, gentle woman with still a trace of her native Sweden in her voice, Mrs. Rollings is a close friend of her next-door neighbor, Mrs. Elvira Coria.

"I've been in this house 40 years and Elvira was here before I came," Mrs. Rollings says, "we're all proud of our homes."

All the neighbors, of all ages, speak affectionately of "Emmy and Elvira" and, one suspects, quietly watch over them.

Different Age Groups. "What we loved about this neighborhood was all the different age groups," Sharon Powell says, "there are families with teen-agers here now, and those kids came over within hours of the time we moved in and offered to baby-sit. Our children have known nothing else but the care of these two or three teen-agers."

Mrs. Powell's husband, Robert, served on Borough Council for three years. He is executive director of the New Jersey Economic Development Authority. She is working on her doctorate in counselling psychology at Rutgers and doing research at the Center for Infancy and Early Childhood. She formerly taught in the Princeton schools and at Stuart.

Across the street from the Powells at 31 Markham are Mr. and Mrs. Antonio Procaccini. On a recent summer afternoon, while repainting his aluminum chain fence, Mr. Procaccini talked glowingly about his neighbors and the neighborhood where he has lived for nine years.

Although he refers deprecatingly to his command of English, he is eloquent about the beautiful neighborhood and the people he has met. He enjoyed the picnic hugely – it came the same day as a family party celebrating his son's graduation as a pharmacist. Mr. Procaccini is a gardener by profession, but when he looks at his neat lawn and shrubs he smiles, "My wife is the gardener for our own yard!"

All the residents -- especially the children – know Palmina Lapina at 23 Markham. She's the one you go to with a wounded bird or a cat that's been in a fight. Neighborhood legend says that Mrs. Lapins, who works in Princeton University's food services department, has succored countless birds fallen from the nest and too young to fend for themselves, mended broken wings and lured cats down from a tree with an open can of cat food.

It was she who walked the neighborhood trying to find the owner of a cat who almost drowned in a water-filled hole in the Sheehan Building.

Help When Needed. Emergencies do bring the neighbors out, even on these streets where people value their privacy. One resident, who asked not to be identified still remembers the day, many years ago, when she thought her child had had a tragic accident. Doors opened up and down the streets and people came running out to help, she recalls.

As it turned out, her child had simply toddled away, out of sight, but the instant response of people she had thought were cold and almost hostile, is still warming to her, after almost 20 years.

Love of privacy.....Although it's important Mme. Archer, for example, says she would have been at the picnic if she hadn't been in Europe. Like Carl Schafer Sr., Robert and Sharon Powell and George Rollings, Mme. Archer is known in the wider Princeton community.

She taught French at the old Princeton Country Day School, then at Princeton Day School, which could not bear to let her go until she reached 71. Since retirement, she has been teaching French to private pupils and she still holds classes at the Princeton Adult School.

Widow of Major H.N. Archer, who fought in the Spanish-American War, the Boxer Rebellion and both World Wars, serving four years in a Japanese prison camp, Mme. Archer is invited each year by the American Legion to march in Princeton's Memorial Day Parade.

Once a year, she says, she attends the party given by her next-door neighbor, Professor Francois Hoffman of the University's French department, for his departmental colleagues. M. Hoffman's wife, Anne, is a founder of and teacher in, the Princeton Language Group.

Across the street from Mme. Archer and Professor and Mrs. Hoffman lives Irving Potts, book buyer for the Princeton University Store, and next door lives Dorothy Compton, whom generations of Princeton children knew as the science lady in the old Nassau Street elementary school.

Not All Is Harmonius. An outsider might think that no discord ever penetrated the gentle shade of these quite streets, but that's not quite the case. Some years ago, the plans of John W. Womack, 32 Markham, to build an addition in the contemporary style, at the rear of his house drew the anger of his next-door neighbor, Mrs. Mary Olivier who had lived in her own house for some 20 years.

After heated words before the Borough Zoning Board, Mr. Womack got the permission he needed and built his addition. It was designed by a pupil of Michael Graves and is what most residents of the area would describe as avant garde. It is not visible from the street.

Mrs. Olivier, who says she had been a witness when British-born John Womack received his United States citizenship, is still upset over the matter and says it may, in the end, drive her to sell her house and move. She is employed at the Institute for Advanced Study.

To present a united voice against what they regard as undesirable developments in the neighborhood, residents formed a Jugtown Citizens Committee in the mid-1960s. Dr. Frank Craven was its first chairman, a position now held by Dr. Alfred Cook. Mrs. Olivier was secretary-treasurer for a time. The group no longer meets formally, but can be summoned to action at any time.

It is threatened change that brings the group out in force. Changes that have occurred except for the Sheehan Building, have largely been subtle ones, occurring slowly over a long period of time.

It is a desirable area. The Powells aren't the only young couples who would like to move there, enjoying the relative security that comes when a whole neighborhood is a kind of cul de sac. Cars don't zoom along Wilton, Markham, Sergeant, Pelham. A five-year-old on a bike is safe.

Prices Moderate. Also, as realtor Audrey Short points out, "Jugtown Heights" is still in the moderate category, for housing cost. Last year, a house on Patton sold for $83,000 and this year, one on Princeton Avenue for $87,500. But in the past two years, houses have been going at $56,000, $61,500, $71,000. And there are more who would like to buy, than people who want to sell.

So far as one can tell, the neighborhood has not suffered from what most people believe is a Princeton syndrome: retired people who can't afford to live here any more. The retired blue-collar couples or widows or widowers live in houses long since paid for, and they seem serenely disinclined ever to move.

"I guess you could say the only gripe we have is the dogs," Mrs. Powell reflects, "when I see old people out in their yards shoveling up dog dirt, it really aggravates me! I've asked people to restrain their dogs and sometimes it works and sometimes not. We live close, I'm reluctant to do more. We don't want friction...."

But friction is the last thing that would occur to anyone walking along Wilton in the heavy shade of summer. The soft voices have the accents of France, Italy, Sweden and central New Jersey. They like living there. It's a neighborhood.

SEWERS

Agreements Nearly Ready. The revised sewer agreement between the Stony Brook Regional Sewerage Authority and Princeton will be on the agenda for public hearing at a special Borough Council meeting this Thursday at 8 p.m. in Borough Hall, and at Township Committee's regular meeting next Wednesday at 8 p.m. in Township Hall.

However, since the Authority may want to be sure that all its member communities are at the starting gate at the same time, final Borough Action may be postponed, according to Borough attorney Gordon Griffin.

A revised sewer agreement is necessary because Hopewell Township has decided it does not want to be part of the Authority's sewer agreements.

One of the anxieties in the minds of Princeton officials has been the cost of running the new sewer plant after it opens on November 1 of this year, when its only customers are the two Princetons.

In the new agreement, the Authority agrees to try to ease this burden by finding out whether it can borrow money for all--or some--of the operating and maintenance costs. This would be for the period of time when only Borough and Township are connected and until West Windsor and South Brunswick tie in. It would reduce the amount Borough and Township would have to pay, but debt service would have to be met.

It is not yet certain, Mr. Griffin points out, whether this course is legal. Ron Berman, acting as the Authority's attorney in these service agreement discussions, is consulting on the question with the Authority's bond counsel, Hawkins Delafield and Wood of New York.

Estimates place the cost of running the new plant for the first year at $1.2 million, of which Princeton will be paying 75 percent. It has not yet been decided how this will be divided among Borough, Township and Princeton University–the three members of Princeton's Sewer Operating Committee.

"Contingent liability" is another worry for Authority members. It means that if one Authority member decides to allow increased population with consequent need for more sewers, the other members have to join in bearing the costs.

In the revised agreement, a town that decided it needs more sewers will be charged some part of the debt service already expended, thereby solving at least part of the liability problem.

CHANGE SPRUCE?

Board will Consider. Should Spruce Street be extended from its present dead-end so that drivers can use it to reach Lloyd Terrace? If this were done, the present entrance to Lloyd Terrace from Harrison would be closed off, and Borough Council would like to know what various key groups think of the idea.

The Planning Board will talk it over, when it gathers next Tuesday at 8 p.m. in Borough Hall for its first regular meeting after the summer vacation schedule. The Traffic Safety Committee and the Housing Authority have also been asked by Council to comment. The Authority has said it likes the Lloyd entrance just the way it is.

The board will also be asked by Council to think about a

Fair in the Square This Weekend

For those who elect to stay away from crowded beaches and congested highways this Labor Day Weekend, the place to be is Palmer Square where the Nassau Inn has planned a three day fair complete with band music, a sidewalk art show, bicycle races and free lemonade.

Some of the highlights include a two-hour musical revue, "Broadway Showstoppers," with Broadway performers, to be held Sunday from 3 to 5 on the Green and again on Monday from 5 to 7. A Bicycle Race around the Square will be held Monday from 1 to 2:30.

The fair will begin Saturday at 10 with an art show and sale by the Princeton Art Association. Well-known cartoonist Bill Crowley will draw free caricatures Saturday between 11 and 5, and there will be performances by the Rocky Hill and Blue Grass music bands between 3 and 5.

Free movies will be offered on Saturday, including a full length feature, a "Three Stooges" film and four cartoons starting at 10 in the Playhouse. Monzi the Clown will dance and make balloon animals to give away to children also on Saturday.

Sunday's features include a "Great Vegetable Contest." Contestants are asked to bring their entrees between 10 and 12 Saturday to Hulfish Street, behind the Inn. Judging will be at 1 p.m. The Windsor Heights Band will perform Sunday from 2 to 3.

In addition to the free lemonade and apples, there will be watermelon for five cents a slice and corn for five cents an ear at the "Corn Boil" where you can see it being cooked. Hot dogs will also be available.

Tom Root, the new general manager of the Nassau Inn, has extended an open invitation to the community to join in the festivities.

Hot Weather Ahead?

September can be
Just as hot
As last July,
Which it is not.

After cooler temperatures during the middle of the month, the last few days of August have brought back hazy, hot and humid weather.

Expectations are that it will continue through the latter part of this week, with a chance of showers on Friday. The Labor Day weekends have not been as good as they might have the past few years, but the long range outlook for summer's last big weekend is pretty good.

suggestion from the Chamber of Commerce that the Borough pass a "flat" ordinance similar to the Township's. This would allow larger homes in the R-1 and R-2 zones to convert unused space -- perhaps servants' quarters or rooms over a garage – to flats.

In other matters on the agenda, the Planning Board will hold a hearing on Lawrence Greene's plans to complete his Brookstone development, and will consider Benedict Yedlin's request for relief from a cluster requirement related to seven lots he is developing on the east side of Herrontown Lane.

Ethel Brummer's request for a variance related to a Harriet Drive sub-division of her property will also be heard.

TO IMPROVE TRACKS

Amtrak Project. With Commuter parking space hard to find, the least you can ask for, it would seem, is a nice smooth ride. In about two years, that may indeed be the case.

A 30-mile stretch of track extending from south of Trenton to Metuchen will be re-done by Amtrak, according to word from the state Department of Transportation to the office of Representative Millicent Fenwick.

The work will involve realigning curves, and laying new tracks with the goal of increasing the average speed throughout the northeast corridor from its present 60 m.p.h. to an average of 90. In this area, it is even projected that the average speed might achieve 120.

Design contracts are now being let, with a possible decision in six to nine months and construction contracts will be let after that, so work isn't expected to start until late spring of 1978 at the earliest.

BIKE SIREN SLIPS

Youth Thrown to Roadway. A 12-year old Princeton cyclist was taken by ambulance to Princeton Medical Center Thursday afternoon after he was thrown to the roadway.

Police said that Randall T. Glueck, 86 Greenway Terrace, was riding on Greenway when a siren attached to the front wheel fork of his 10-speed bicycle came loose and fell into the spokes, causing the bike to come to a sudden stop. Young Glueck was pitched to the roadway and struck the left side of his face.

He was treated for a concussion and abrasions of the face and arm. Ptl. Mario Musso investigated.

Moped Mishap. Two 15-year old girls sustained injuries when the moped they were riding collided with a car Thursday evening around 7:30 at the intersection of Princeton and Aiken Avenues.

Deidre A. Stenard, 57 Randall Road, driver of the moped, and her passenger, Heidi C. Kappes, 45 Oakland Road, were taken by patrol

All Princeton High School students should report to Home Groups at 8:10 a.m. next Wednesday, September 7, for the first day of school. Schedules will be distributed at that time, and students will then follow the abbreviated Wednesday schedule.

Orientation for ninth graders and any other students new to the school, will be next Tuesday, September 6. These students should report to the auditorium at 1:15 p.m. for a program led by Paul Lysaker, president of Student Council.

Other members of Student Council will be introduced, as well as George Petrillo, principal of the school; Marvin Trotman, freshman counselor and other administrators. Norman Van Arsdalen, assistant principal, will talk about the fall sports program.

After the program, students will report to home rooms to receive schedules. Classroom teachers will meet stduents on an abbreviated schedule so that students can become familiar with the schedules and the layout of the building. The program will end at 3:30.

by PU. Randy Sutton whose subsequent investigation revealed fraud. They were turned over to Borough juvenile officer Douglas Watson for processing.

Despite their youth, the two displaced "considerable expertise" as solicitors, according to Chief Michael Carnevale. They had envelopes made up for donations and a register to sign for those who contributed, Chief Carnevale reported.

The chief commented the arrest illustrates that people will solicit for anything and that the public should be on guard. Those stopped for a donation should first request proper identification and authorization, he suggested.

DRIVER, 12, CHARGED

When Car Hits House. A 12-year old Princeton juvenile was charged with driving without a license after the car he was driving up Quarry Street jumped the curb and struck the south wall of a home on John Street. Police said the youth was not injured and damage to the home was not extensive.

EAT AND RUN

"The Sandwich Eater," only stayed long enough at the One Palmer Square plaza on Tuesday to wolf down a hamburger, run through the Twenty-third Psalm one more time, and then be off. J. Seward Johnson's life-size bronze sculpture--also called, somewhat irreverently, "Out to Lunch"--will be traveling to Illinois where it will grace Tyndale Publishing, a Bible-publishing firm. The figure is holding a Bible turned to Psalm 23.

The Johnson atelier brought "The Sandwich Eater" to One Palmer Square because it seemed like a nice place to sit him for picture-taking. While he was there, tranquilly reading his Bible, he drew the attention of curious and baffled pedestrians. Borough zoning officer George Olexa--who questioned the sanity of a querying reporter--said the sculpture would require a building permit if its installation into the concrete cost more than $200.

However, by that time, the hamburger was gone and so was the muncher. Another copy of the work, incidentally, is in Kansas City, Missouri, on the grounds of a contracting firm. In the background is--a McDonald's.

car to the Medical Center for treatment of their injuries. Each sustained a contusion of the head; Miss Stenard also suffered injuries to her right leg.

According to the investigation by Ptl. Victor Fasanella, Miss Stenard attempted to stop when she approached the intersection but her brakes didn't hold and she struck the rear fender of a car operated by Samuel Sculerati, 68, 108 Linden Lane. There were no police charges.

Sgt. Thomas Procaccino investigated the accident which occurred at 1:50 Sunday morning. The owner of the car, Richard White Jr., 148 Witherspoon Street, was issued a summons for failing to report an accident in which his car was involved.

POLICE SEEK TWO

For Open Lewdness. Police are looking for two men who exposed themselves last week in separate locations in the Township.

Two women told police that as they drove through a Princeton University parking lot off Washington Road on Thursday a man stood alongside his car parked in the visitors' section and exposed himself. A police search proved negative.

The suspect was described as a black male in his 20s, 5-10, 155 lbs., wearing a white baseball type shirt with black sleeves, black pants, black sneakers and black hat. He was driving a blue 1970 or '71 car with a white top.

The incident took place shortly after 5.

Saturday afternoon, a 27-year old woman told police while she was getting out of her car at the Princeton Shopping Center, a car pulled up next to her's and stopped.

The victim looked over, police said, and saw that the driver had his pants pulled down to his knees. He was described as a white male, 20 to 22, with brown curly hair and a full beard, wearing a light-colored shirt.

$770 TYPEWRITER STOLEN

From Nassau St. Office. A red, electric typewriter, valued at $770, was stolen Monday between 5 and 10 p.m. frnm a second-floor office at 18 Nassau Street. Police believe the lock was picked or a key was used to enter the office as there were no signs of forced entry.

Two Borough parking meters were stolen during the weekend from Park Place, according to meterman Jack O'Neill. The two were valued at $170.

Taken from a room in Frick Lab on the university campus last week was a metal tool box containing engineering tools, including micrometers and metric tapes. Total value: $115.

A State College, Pa., resident listed the theft of her handbag from a Nassau Inn restaurant on Saturday--she lost $100 in cash, change and set of keys--while Peter J. DeJonge of the Terrace Club, 62 Washington Road, had his quartz wristwatch and wallet stolen. He told police they were in a bag which he had left along the side of Community Park pool while he went swimming for 15 minutes. His total loss was $158.

Two CBs Stolen. Two more CB radio thefts were reported by Township police.

A Westminster Choir College student, David Tripold told police his 23 channel CB ($75) was removed from his locked car parked in a school

Need Fuel Bill Help?

If you think you're eligible to get back some of the money you spent last winter on fuel, you now have an extended deadline for application. Next Friday, September 9 is now the final day, under the Federal "Crisis Intervention" program.

Talk to Barbara Schleyer at the Princeton Youth Center between 9 a.m. and 1 p.m. daily, or call her at 924-0996, and she will tell you whether you qualify. She will also help you fill out the forms.

The program is not just for the elderly, by the way. Applicants will need proof of income--either a W-2 form, income-tax form, Medicaid cards, pay-check stubs or SSI declarations.

You may be eligible if you paid your heating bills and they were so high you couldn't meet other necessary living costs.

lot. Police believe a wire was used to unlatch the door lock.

Charles Swain of Cranbury, a Princeton University painter, was victimized while painting at the Lawrence Apartments for the university. When he returned to his car parked in the apartment lot, he noticed a coat hanger on the ground near the driver's door and the door unlocked. A glance inside confirmed that his 23 channel CB, which he valued at $351, had been taken from under the dash.

Borough police report that a Somerville resident had his $175 cassette tape recorder stolen Thursday from his unlocked car while it was parked in front of 18 Witherspoon Street.

TWO ARE FINED

In Borough Court. Two Princeton residents were fined Monday in Borough traffic court by acting Judge Robert Casey.

Marc Moran, 322, State Road, was fined $35 as an unlicensed driver, and Martinus Genuchten, 276 Nassau Street, was fined $15 for a stop sign violation.

GENERAL ALARM SOUNDED

For Fire at Nursing Home. Police sounded a general alarm at 9:48 Thursday morning when a nurse called to report smoke at the Princeton Nursing Home on Quarry Street.

The small fire was confined, police said, to an intercom system at the nurses' station and there was no need for any fire equipment. Ptl. Gerald Patterson responded to the initial call.

RED CROSS THANKED

For Crosstown 62 Aid. Township Committee by resolution has expressed its thanks to the Princeton Red Cross Chapter for its help to the Crosstown 62 program of transportation of the elderly.

The program, which is now under the sponsorship of the Princeton Jaycees, is financed jointly by the Borough and the Township. During its experimental period in 1973-74 the program was administered by the Red Cross. During that period two opinion surveys among users were carried out by the Red Cross with the help from personnel at Opinion Research Corporation to determine the usefulness and acceptance of the program.

After a brief hiatus, the Princeton Jaycees took over the sponsorship but the Red Cross has continued to provide office space for the program and its coordinator without charge to the municipalities. The office was moved recently to Township Hall.

The resolution reads, in part, "Now therefore be it resolved by the Township Committee that it express on behalf of the entire community and itself its deep thanks and appreciation to the Princeton Chapter of the American Red Cross, its officers and staff for the support they have given to the Crosstown 62 program."

DEER, SEWERS, BIKES

Back in Township Hall. Two weeks of summer rest for Township Committee will end next Wednesday, September 7, when Committee gathers once again at 8 p.m. in Township Hall.

Some old friends will be waiting: modification of the sewer ban and who can tie in, the bikepath along Stockton and deer hunting.

Public hearing will be held on the ordinance to raise salaries for Committee members, and on the revised contract with the Stony Brook Regional Sewerage Authority.

Committee will introduce a measure to suspend alternate side of the street parking on Birch Avenue on Martin Luther King's birthday, January 15. Such suspension is routine for holidays; the measure would simply add Dr. King's birthday to the list.

In the work session, representatives of the state's fish and game commission will join Committee in a discussion of deer hunting.

Got An Old Buggy?

The George Street Playhouse production of "The Rainmaker" won't open in the New Brunswick theatre until October 7, but the producer needs props.

If you have an old buggy seat, harnesses, saddles, farm tools, old mail-order catalogues, a stand-up telephone for an old-fashioned desk.....

.....a crystal-set radio with phonograph horn, a very large bass drum with drumsticks, feed sacks, old suitcases.....

The Playhouse says it will return all items in good condition. Call 201-246-7717, or stop at the box office at 414 George Street. Riding, of course, on your old buggy seat.

The following week--October 13–the Dashuki Music Theatre will present the premiere of a chamber opera. The program will also include recent compositions by David Behrman, David Gibson and Phill Niblock with Joseph Celli as accompanist.

HUN TO OPEN SEPT. 12

With Capacity Enrollment. The Hun School will begin its 63rd academic year Monday, September 12 with a capacity enrollment of day and resident students in grades 6-12, according to Headmaster Thomas M. Woodward, Jr.

To relieve crowding in some facilities and in keeping with present discussions of the Long-range Planning Committee, the School intends to hold enrollment to 500 or under this year. Composed of trustees, faculty members and administrators, the Committee is considering the optimum size of the School in terms of efficient use of facilities, composition of the student body and future goals.

The school will welcome 150 new students, among them members of the newly-instituted sixth grade. Concern for the early formation of strong English, math and study skills prompted addition of the sixth grade to the Middle School. During this first year, one section of sixth graders will be taught in a self-contained classroom.

The fully subscribed International Students Program comprises 35 boys and girls from 18 countries -- Holland, Spain, Japan, Malaysia, Iran, Laos, Venezuela, Haiti, Taiwan, Brazil, Panama, Hong Kong, Dominican Republic, Thailand, Mexico and Singapore. Newcomers to the United States are already on campus participating in a special orientation phase of the program.

More Girls Enrolled. In its seventh year of coeducation, the School reports an increase in the number of girls enrolled in the day program. "We hope to enlarge dormitory capacity for young women by next year to accommodate the upward trend in applications to the boarding department and to improve the balance between the number of resident boys and girls," Mr. Woodward noted.

The new year will benefit from recent improvements in programs and facilities. The dining hall and vestibule have been remodeled, new student lounges have been provided, and a second darkroom constructed. The largest addition in new equipment is for use in computer science studies. An expenditure of $20,000 for a mark-sense card reader, two magnetic tape drives, and a line printer will vastly increase the capability of the Hun computer to serve students.

The enlarged computer capability will permit all students to learn BASIC computer programming through regular math course offerings. More advanced two-year computer science courses will also be available in FORTRAN and ASSEMBLER language.

Teachers and administrators, as well as students, will benefit from the new equipment which can devise and grade tests, and analyze test results. Other possible uses include student scheduling, grade reporting, and class ranking.

Other acquisitions include new scientific instruments for marine biology studies, foreign language tapes and filmstrips, art equipment, a wrestling mat, and a projector and portable sound system. Mr. Woodward said many of the new additions and programs were made possible by parents' donations to the Annual Giving Fund.

Admissions Director Terence Beach reported that applications and selectivity "are at their highest point in the history of the school." Over the past two years, applications have increased 40 percent. Mr. Beach reasoned that interest in Hun School's traditional program may reflect parental preference for a return to "the basics" in education.

Registration for day students in grades 11 and 12 is scheduled for Thursday, September 8, 1-4:30 p.m.; grades 9 and 10, Friday, September 9, 1-4:30 p.m.; grades 6, 7 and 8, Saturday, September 10, 9-11 a.m. Boarding students registration is planned for Sunday. Classes begin on Monday.

HUN NAMES DIRECTORS

For Upper, Middle Schools. Headmaster Thomas M. Woodward, Jr., of The Hun School has announced the appointments of new directors of the Upper and Middle School as well as the appointments of several new faculty members.

With ten years' experience at the sixth grade level, Miss Giguere comes to Hun from St. Joachim's School in Trenton.

Karen E. Czarnecki, who holds a Bachelor's and Master's degree from the University of Southern California, will teach part-time in Hun's Foreign Student program. A specialist in teaching English to speakers of other languages, Mrs. Czarnecki has been, for the past four years, a member of the English Department at Mercer County Community College and an instructor in the Ewing Evening Adult School. attend 'open house" activities at their buildings, the day before.

Set for 3 to 6 p.m., on Wednesday, September 7, in each of the elementary schools, the open house is intended to familiarize children and parents new to a school, with the building, rooms and facilities. In addition, individual teacher and student room assignments will be posted. Parents are urged to bring their children to the open house. Refreshment will be served.

Any parent who finds the time or date inconvenient, can arrange for an individual visit to an elementary building, by contacting the principal of the school involved.

Individual visits can be made from Tuesday, August 30, through Friday, September 2, as well as on Tuesday, September 6.

Parents of students who are new to a school building are urged not to drive their children to school on opening day. Plans are being made for PTA-PTSO parent volunteers to ride all buses on opening day, and to provide color-coded tags for children, in order to facilitate accurate bus assignments and transportation for all youngsters. Shuttle vans will be available to administrators, should a youngster report to the wrong school building.

New Staff Members. Three persons have been added to the professional staff. In central administration, Mrs. Maria Radian, will be on hand as the district's Supervisor, K-8. The holder of a cum laude bachelor's degree from St. John University, as well as an M.A. from Columbia University, Mrs. Radian comes to Franklin from Jackson, New Jersey, where she served as Director of Elementary Education K-8.

Mrs. Radian has taught at all educational levels, from elementary self-contained classrooms, through secondary departmentalized, to a graduate seminar. She has also been a Director of Reading, Principal and Coordinator of Special Services.

Two new faces will appear in the Franklin High School music and band rooms. They are Calvin Chase, the new band director and Herbert Benge, assistant band director. Mr. Chase holds two degrees in Music and Music Conducting; a B.A. from Jersey City State College, and an M.A. from Trenton State College. Mr. Benge holds a bachelor's degree from Robert Wesleyan College and a master's from the State of University at Buffalo, in Music Education. The two men are experienced in both teaching music and directing bands.

There will be some new faces within individual schools, as teachers transfer to different buildings due to elementary redistricting. As of Thursday, August 25th, the Personnel Office of the school district reported the following new assignments for teachers already on the district professional staff: To the Conerly Road School - Joi Carolla, Sylvia Edwards, Steven Kover; To the Elizabeth Avenue School - Minna Giampino, Helen Welch (½ time).

To the Franklin Park School – Henry Grow, Joseph Muni, Yvonne Nash; To the MacAfee Road School – Rose Bailey, Koren Buda, Priscilla Goldstein, Dorothy Gural, Helen Welch (½ time); To the Middlebush School – Irma Rubin, Claire Wright; to the Pine Grove Manor School – Shirley Blumberg, Joanne Dixon, LaVerne Kriney, and Welther Moye.

Also on hand for the opening will be over 40 volunteers from the community, who will assist with implementation of Plan XXX (A) for redistricting and desegregation. They are residents who have telephoned the schools to volunteer their services, or have been enlisted through the PTA-PTSO's.

School is opening one day later than was indicated on the original school calendar developed by the Board of Education. This postponement of the first day for students, (to September 8), will permit an additional staff orientation day. Thus, teachers will have two days back in school without students present, instead of the customary one, to prepare for implementation of Plan XXX (A).

It is anticipated that total student enrollment for the 1977-78 school year will decrease from 1976-77. At the opening of school last year, there were 5,954 pupils on the class lists, while this year's total enrollment is projected at some 5,528.

School lunches will be available to students on the first day of the school year. The operating hours of Franklin Township Public Schools remain the same for 1977-78 as they were last year.

SHOW OPENS THURSDAY

At Grover's Mill Graphic. The gallery at Grover's Mill Graphics will present Sculpture, Painting and Drawings, a show which will feature the work of young artists currently residing in the New Jersey-Pennsylvania area (some originally from British Columbia and California).

The show will be on display this Thursday, through Saturday, September 10. The public is invited to the opening reception on Saturday, September 3 from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. to meet the artists and view the works.

The sculpture presentations are a potpourri of current trends in sculpture and range from east coast abstract approaches to figurative, surrealist and biomorphic themes. The diversity of approaches also extends to the choice of media with works in bronze, wood, stone, ceramics, and plastics.

Although mostly a sculpture show, some of the artists will also have drawings, paintings, and prints on display. The featured artists are: Rob Harvey, Herk Van Tongeren, Jim Mulroy, Bob Cooke, Jim Morris, Rose Cofield, Jonathan Scott, Malcome McTaggart, Joe Carolfi, Mike O'Dell, Bob Ryan, Al Bien, Mike McMath, Ron Lessard, Nancy Staub, Rory Mahon, Melissa Killeen, Kathy Jelly, Fred Morante, Adele DiMedio, and Timi Skinner.

The gallery at Grover's mill Graphics, 164 Cranbury Neck Road, Princeton Junction, New Jersey has new hours beginning Thursday. The gallery will now be open six days a week, Monday through Saturday, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Being Funny 20 Times Each Week is No Joke But Henry Martin Always Keeps 'em Laughing

By the time Henry Martin's work week has ended and he has locked the door of his Charlton Street studio on a Friday afternoon, he has created and completed 20 cartoons.

And that's not even a five-day week, because on Wednesdays he travels to New York to show his portfolio to The New Yorker or perhaps The Saturday Review.

Mr. Martin's book of business cartoons, "Good News-Bad News," is now in its second printing and Charles Scribner is planning a second book for publication next month. The new one will be on men and women and it will be called "Yak! Yak! Yak! Blah! Blah! Blah!".

Like "Good News," it will contain reprints of those New Yorker cartoons, but it will also, like "Good News," have a lot of cartoons that haven't been published before. Reading a Martin cartoon book is not, therefore, like thumbing a lot of back New Yorkers.

There's a story going around Princeton that Henry Martin sold "Good News" simply by leaving it with Scribners' doorman, and the cartoonists grins and says yes, it's true.

"Next to their bookstore, on Fifth Avenue, is the entrance to their building," he explains, "and they have a doorman. Well, I had this bulky envelope of cartoons with the name of Mr. Charles Scribner on it, and I just handed it to the doorman. The next week, Mr. Scribner called me....."

One of the things Mr. Scribner said in that conversation, when he learned from Mr. Martin that there were a lot of unpublished cartoons lying around, "My goodness, bring them in!"

"So I did."

..."Almost a Princetonian."

THE ARTIST AS BUSINESSMAN: Henry Martin is shown here at his drawing-board, but he's equally at home at the desk across the room because the cartoonist serves as his own agent and business manager. Martin cartoons about the business world, many from The New Yorker, others never published before, are in his new book, "Good News/Bad News."

Henry Martin comes from Louisville, but he went to Princeton, graduating in 1948, and after two years of art school tried living in New York. He lasted three months.

Commenting on his residence here since 1950 he says, "I'm almost a 'Princetonian' but not quite. You really have to be born here to qualify for that."

Why all the business cartoons?

"My father was a businessman, and I must have soaked up a lot of it because it keeps pouring out. Businessmen aren't as dull as people think, and anyway, a cartoonist is really speaking about human nature, making observations about the human nature that underlies it all–not just about people in business."

At The New Yorker, he said, the cartoon editor was going through the magazine's "bank" of cartoons and discovered that more than half of them were about the business world.

He was a successful commercial artist for a long time before he made the New Yorker. Four years of 20 cartoons a week–something like 2,000 cartoons–before the magazine finally bought one. Now Mr. Martin has a contract with The New Yorker giving them first pick of his crop.

"It's nice, having that contract," Henry Martin smiles, "I recall that the artist Thomas Hart Benton once said the most flattering thing you can do for an artist is give him a commission!"

The 20 cartoons a week don't seem to be particularly hard to achieve. Yes, there are days when the ink doesn't flow, but he is tranquil about these times. He knows they disappear eventually and the ideas begin to flow again.

It's the idea and the caption that come first. He cannot imagine how it could be otherwise. He conceives all his own captions and does not buy from the outside, as some cartoonists do.

One-Man Band. In fact, he describes himself as a one-man band because he is his own agent and his own businessman, as well as his own caption-writer, handling all the requests for reprints and, in fact, serving as a very proper businessman for the business that is Henry Martin.

"I enjoy it," he says easily, "it's a pleasant change from the cartoons."

A relaxed, happy, friendly man, Mr. Martin enjoys his fellow cartoonists and the Wednesday lunches they often have together in New York. They compete, yes, "but the nicest thing is we're all friends."

He is also a thorough and enthusiastic Princeton resident--if not an actual "Princetonian." He speaks glowingly of the Princeton Public Library "...one of the best!" and of the animal-rescue organization, SAVE, and he cherishes the old, one-room house on the corner of Charlton and William that has served as his office-studio for more than 20 years.

A third book, by the way, is in progress. It started out to be a book about The Good Life, with a lot of cartoons about backpacking and ecology and so on. Scribners decided it should be broader in scope, so The Good Life is now being expanded to include food, travel and the good life generally. Sounds like good news.

Gentlemen: I'm happy to announce that the all-expense-paid two-weeks' tour of Europe has been awarded to Ms. Feona Putts in the Chicago office for her winning suggestion that a 10 percent raise be approved for the board of directors."

ROYAL TREATMENT... NO MORE, AND NO LESS, THAN WHAT YOUR LAWN NEEDS

NOW is the best time to rebuild your lawn!

AND IT WON'T COST A KING'S RANSOM

No two lawns are identical, and that's why each lawn needs a special diagnosis and individual treatment.

Phil Montgomery, a graduate of Roger Williams College, and Kenneth Gapp, a graduate of C.W. Post College, are a two-man team who intend to see to it that your lawn will get exactly what it needs to keep it healthy and green. No more, and no less.

"We're particular," says Phil. "And you have to be in this business. Too much fertilizer can hurt a lawn as much as too little. We get to know our customers' lawns better than the big outfits. And it pays off, because we don't overprescribe treatments, and so we can save our customers money and headaches."

With Phil and Ken, your lawn will be in the hands of specialists who care.

DOG SHOW SET

At Shopping Center. Dog Owners Educational League, Inc. and the Princeton Shopping Center Merchants' Association will sponsor the 2nd annual Kids Dog Show Saturday, September 17, from 11 to 2 at the Shopping Center. The show will be held rain or shine.

All youngsters from 4 to 14 years of age may enter their dogs which are more than six months old. Purebreds, cross-breeds and mongrels are all welcome, and no special training is required. Dogs may be entered in one or more classes for a donation of $1 per dog.

All dogs must be on a leash and under control at all times. Classes include best looking purebred and best looking all-American, both at 11; best trick dog and best behaved dog at 12, and best costumed dog at 1:30.

A special class, "dog quiz," will be conducted by a veterinarian between 11 and 2 to test knowledge of dogs in general. Winners of each of the six classes will be eligible for Best of Show judging. Trophies, ribbons and merit ribbons will be awarded as well as a surprise package to every entrant.

There will be an obedience demonstration at 1 by members of the Princeton Dog Trainining Club who are supplying some of the trophies. Marie Bellis will be the show photographer and will donate an 8 x 10 photograph of the Best In Show winner.

Youngsters may enter a dog up to 30 minutes before judging of each class on the day of the show or they may enter in advance. Entry forms and rules are available at Noah's Ark in the Shopping Center and at the Public Library. For additional information call Mrs. Billie McFadden in Felmington, (201) 782-0298.

NEW REPORT CARD SET For W. Windsor Kindergarten. The West Windsor-Plainsboro Region Board of Education adopted a new kindergarten report card and kindergarten goals at its meeting held Tuesday evening at the Maurice Hawk School. The adoptions culminated a year of work by a committee of parents, teachers, and administrators.

The kindergarten report card was adopted with the understanding that there will be further evaluations by teachers and parents to refine and make changes in the report card where deemed necessary. The kindergarten goals were also approved with the provision that they will be evaluated thoroughly prior to the close of school in June. It was also specified that this evaluation study should reflect the broadest possible community input.

In education matters, the board approved the fall athletic schedule, voted to accept a mini-grant for the sum of $1,000 from the New Jersey Department of Education for a district proposal on mainstreaming and approved a number of out-of-district student placements for the 1977-78 school year.

The board also approved the appointments of a number of new teachers, substitute teachers, granted a maternity leave and approved the appointment of the various athletic coaches for the fall program.

In other educational matters Superintendent Richard Willever reported that there was an increase in the enrollment in the two first grade classes at the Wicoff School and be requested that he be empowered to hire two certified teachers to serve as part-time aides in these classrooms if enrollment figures for these classes do not decrease by the opening day of school. The board voted to approve the Superintendent's request.

The next regular monthly meeting of the board will be held on Tuesday, Sept. 27 at 8 in room 200 D at the high school.

Due to the delay in the completion of the West Windsor Township Municipal Building, the West Windsor-Plainsboro Regional Board of Education Offices will be located temporarily at the Maurice Hawk School from September 7 to October 1, 1977.

The telephone numbers for the administrative offices will remain 799-0200, 799-0201 and 452-2185.

PHOTOS ON VIEW

At YMCA. Photographers in The Photo Co-op, co-operating with the YMCA, will hold an exhibit of their photographs at the YMCA on Paul Robeson Place from Tuesday, September 6 through Friday, September 16—9 a.m. to 10 p.m. daily.

A reception, to which the public is invited, will be held Tuesday, September 6 from 7:30 to 10 p.m.

Photographers displaying their work are Heidi Jain, Joseph McBride, Marty Roller, Walter Shchuruk, Karen Tozzi, Susan Wilson and Robert Wright.

The Photo Co-op was formed to give serious photographers the opportunity to exhibit their work periodically, and to receive the comments of fellow photographers. Those interested in joining the co-operative may present a portfolio of work at any of the group's twice-monthly meetings. Additional information may be obtained from Ms. Join at 448-4983, or from David Smith at the YMCA--924-4825.

He is known internationally for pioneering techniques and devices that are now commercially manufactured, and his observations on the changing properties of polymers at high and low temperatures, made possible by his new instruments, have considerably advanced man's knowledge of polymer structure and behavior.

Born in London in 1930, Dr. Gillham obtained the B.A. degree from Cambridge University, England, in 1952 and the Ph.D. from McGill University, Canada, in 1959. He joined American Cyanamid Co. as a research chemist in 1958, and moved to Princeton as a visiting research chemist in 1964. Promoted to associate professor in 1965, he assumed his present post as professor of chemical engineering in 1975.

Wendy Wilkinson, daughter of David Wilkinson, 66 Western Way, and Sharon Wilkinson, 14 Vandeventer Avenue, has been accepted for admission to the class of 1981 at Wells College, in Aurora, N.Y. Miss Wilkinson, who graduated from Princeton High School, will enter the college in September.

Marilyn K. Houston of 244 State Road and Margaret L. Lechner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hans Lechner of 15 Madison Street and a student at Earlham College in Richmond, Ind., have been selected for inclusion in the 1977 edition of "Outstanding Young Women in America." The program is designed to honor and encourage exceptional young women between the ages of 21 and 36 who have distinuished themselves in their homes, their professions and in their communities.

Jeremy Dunning, a Ph.D. candidate in geology at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, has received a full scholarship to attend a special symposium at the Institute of Soil and Rock Mechanics, University of Karlsruhe, in the Federal Republic of Germany. Mr. Dunning, who is a native of Princeton, received the scholarship from the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) to attend the first Advanced Study Institute on Dynamical Methods in Soil and Rock Mechanics for two weeks in September.

Karen Van Dyke, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Nicholas B. Van Dyck of 2 Queenston Place, will depart September 7 for a 15 week INTERALP semester on the island of Kalymnos in Greece. Standing for "intercultural action learning program," INTERALP is a non-profit education corporation based in Princeton which has a program also in Kenya as part of its effort to broaden the perspective of 16-19 year olds by immersing them in another culture.

Second Lieutenant Martin W. Westerfield, son of Mrs. Marian A. Morrison of 7 Sycamore Lane and James C. Westerfield of Fremont, Calif., has been awarded silver wings at Reese AFB, Tex., following graduation from U.S. Air Force pilot training. A 1970 graduate of Princeton High School, he received his B.S. degree in 1975 from the University of Arizona where he was commissioned through the ROTC. He has been assigned to McGuire AFB for flying duty on the C-141 Starlifter.

Peter Adamson, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Adamson Jr. of 174 Constitution Drive, will attend St. Paul's School in Concord, N.H., this fall.

Scott A Denoma of 202 Carter Road was named to the Dean's List for the spring quarter at Ohio University in Athens, Ohio. He has completed his sophmore year in the college of arts and sciences.

Kathryn E. Murphy of 8 Wycombe Way, Princeton Junction, and Joseph T. Giacino of 11 Joline Road, Kendall Park, will attend Fairfield University in Fairfield, Conn., this fall as members of the freshman class.

Dr. James Hillier of 22 Areton Road, executive vice president and senior scientist for RCA, has been named recipient of the Electron Microscopy Society of America's Distinguished Award for his pioneering efforts in the development of early electron optical instrumentation on the North American continent. The award was presented to Dr. Hillier at the EMSA's Awards Luncheon in Boston.

Between 1937 and 1940, while a research assistant at the University of Toronto's Department of Physics and at the Banting Institute of the University's Medical School, Dr. Hillier and a colleague, designed and built the first successful high-resolution electron microscope in the Western Hemisphere.

Dr. Hillier joined RCA in 1940 as a research physicist at Camden. Working with a group under the direction of Dr. Vladimir K. Zworykin, television and electronica pioneer, Dr. Hillier designed the first commercial electron microscope to be made available in the United States.

Having developed the instrument in practical form, he then undertook the introduction of the electron microscope into general use as a new and powerful research tool, particularly for the biological and medical sciences. During a period of several years, he continued to develop major engineering improvements in the instrument and several new techniques of biological specimen preparation. In his quest for complementary microanalytical techniques, he invented the electron microprobe.

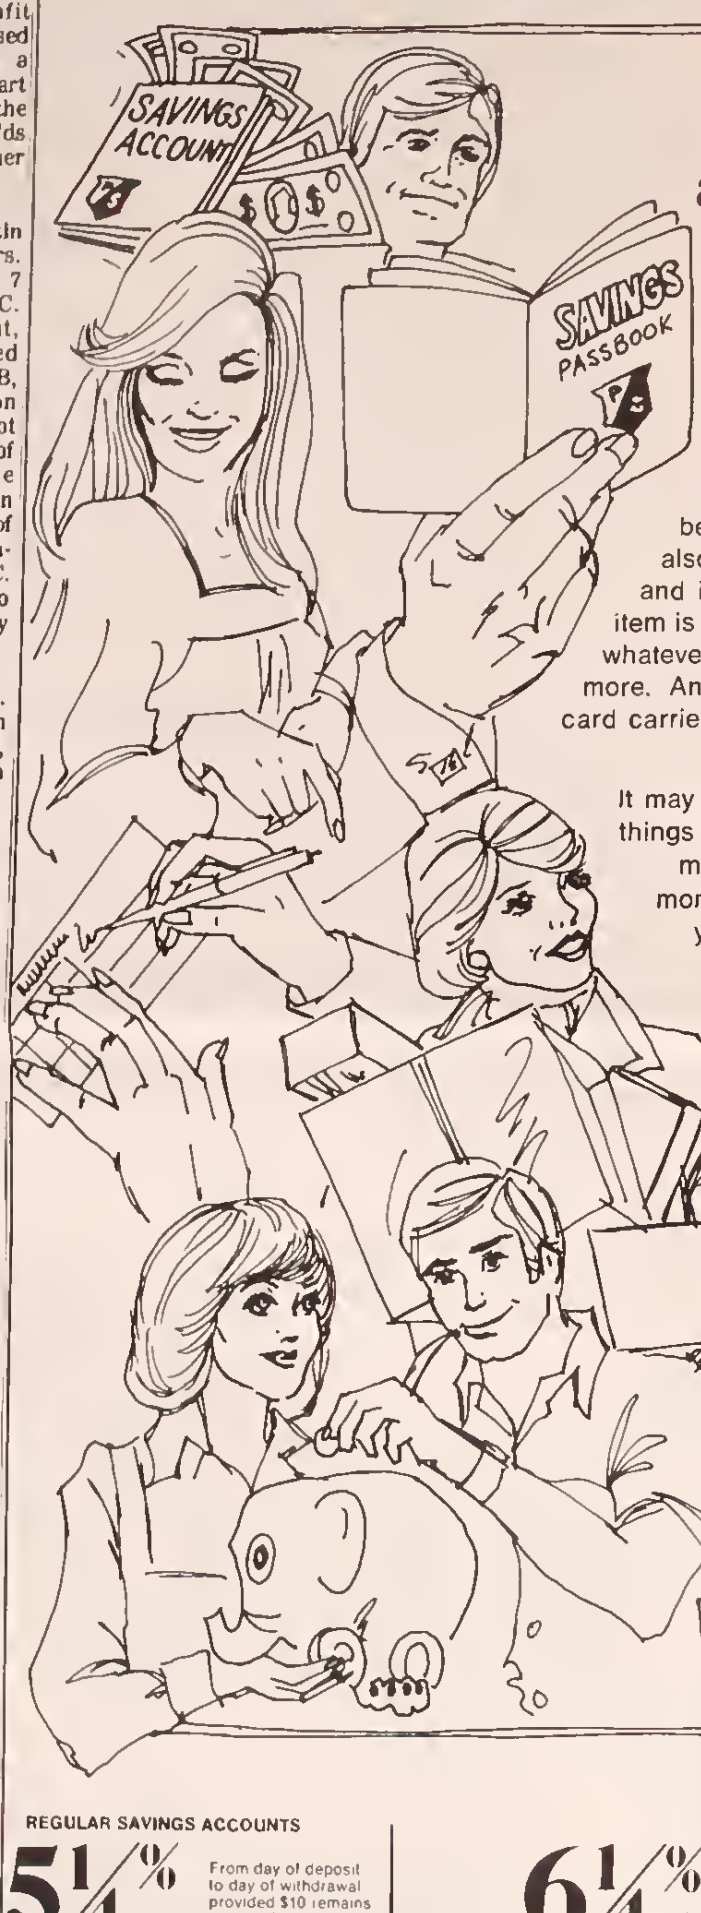
P/S WHERE PEOPLE MAKE THE DIFFERENCE



Save for it?
and earn interest or Charge it?
and pay interest

More people everyday hesitate to charge purchases. While there can be good reasons to charge it, there is also the harsh reality of finance charges and interest rates. Because charging an item is really like borrowing money on time, whatever you charge ends up costing you more. And the small print on every credit card carries some hefty borrowing rates up to 18% a year.

It may be old fashioned to save up for the things you want, but it cuts down on your monthly expenses. You actually earn money while you save, especially when you save at Princeton Savings where your money earns the highest regular savings rate allowed by law, 5¼% a year.

In more cases than you may realize it pays to save for the things you want . . . where people make the difference.

SPORTS FANS I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW

Brought to you
By John Bernard

Here's an amazing football fact ... When the University of Michigan drew a paid attendance of 722,113 for their seven home football games last season, they drew more fans in those seven games than several big league baseball teams did for an entire season of 81 home games! ... Montreal, Minnesota and San Francisco in baseball last year each drew less than 722,000 for their 81 home games while Michigan drew over 722,000 for just seven home football games!

Here's a surprise ... Two of the most famous football coaches of all-time -- Vince Lombardi and Knute Rockne -- actually had relatively short coaching careers ... Lombardi was a head coach in the National Football League for a total of only 10 seasons, while Rockne's entire head coaching career lasted only 13 years.

Of all the runners in pro football history, which one has the most total yards rushing? ... Although the record is held by Jim Brown, it appears now that O.J. Simpson will eventually wind up No. 1 ... Brown rushed for 12,312 yards in his career, but Simpson starts the 1977 season with a total of 9,626, so Brown is only 2,686 yards ahead of Simpson ... If O.J. keeps running like he has, he'll break Brown's record, and become the all-time rushing leader in history.

I bet you didn't know ... that our $10,000 major medical with a $250,000 limit could cost a man age 50, wife age 48 and two children as little as $240 per year.

Tigers' Football Problem in '77: Even If They Are Better, Most of Their Opponents Still Appear to Be Beyond Reach

The old adage that "You have to run awfully hard just to stay even" applies to everyone from a man on a treadmill to the man in charge at General Motors. Not surprisingly, it also fits the immediate future for the Princeton football team, but the Tigers have the added problem that just staying even with last year's 2-7 mark isn't anywhere good enough.

The hard arithmetic shows that last fall, Princeton came within 10 points of being 0 for 9. The two opponents it managed to top lost by a combined margin of 12 to 3; had Cornell and Columbia each been able to come up with a lone touchdown, the Tigers would have had a winless season for the first time since they accepted that invitation to play at New Brunswick 107 years earlier.

Supplementing the hard arithmetic of last year's record is the cold fact that both Cornell and Columbia figure to be better teams than they were a year ago. Viewed from the Princeton side of Palmer Stadium, this means simply that playing only as well as it did last year against these two Ivy foes is highly unlikely to produce victories this fall.

The likelihood of improvement is particularly strong at Ithaca, where Bob Blackman, the scourge of the Ivy League when he held sway at Dartmouth, has come as a refugee from the Big Ten at Illinois. For the past two seasons, football at Cornell has been the worst in the league (3-15 in the two campaigns directed by George Seifert) but he was replaced last winter by Blackman and the change will make itself felt well before the season is over. Blackman-coached teams almost invariably play to the top level of their ability, and this one will have eight games under its belt by the time Princeton appears on its schedule.

Lions Need Quarterback. Like Princeton, Columbia has been struggling to gain respectability of late, and like the Tigers, it is hoping to establish a good quarterback from the two varsity holdovers. Coach Bill Campbell is at work, however, with 18 of last year's starters and his personnel invariably shows the effects of good coaching.

Princeton's meeting with the Lions in Palmer Stadium on October 8 is very likely to rank as a major turning point in the 1977 season. There is no doubt that the first three opponents, Dartmouth, Rutgers, Brown – two of them meeting the Tigers at home -- will be heavily favored to beat them. If the Orange and Black cannot continue its three-year mastery of Columbia, it will be logical to speculate whether there is a team on its schedule it can beat.

Of the other 1977 opponents, Pennsylvania would seem a fair bet for Princeton to defeat -- were it not for the fact that the Tigers have failed to beat some very mediocre Penn teams in the past five years. The Quakers manage to break out of the Ivy's second division about once a decade, but Princeton has not won from them since 1971.

1977 Football Schedule

			1976 Pr.	1976 Op.
Sept	17	At Dartmouth	7	33
	24	Rutgers	0	17
Oct	1	At Brown	7	13
	8	Columbia	9	3
	15	Colgate	7	17
	22	At Harvard	14	20
	29	At Penn	9	10
Nov	5	Yale	7	39
	12	Cornell	3	0

Of the remaining six teams on the schedule, not all are likely to be as good as they were a year ago, but every one of them appears to have sufficient ability to be rated a pre-season favorite over Bob Casciola's team. Colgate, for example, was a fine 8-2 last fall, winning its first eight before dropping the final two games to Army and Rutgers. The New Yorkers have an 11th game and a tougher schedule that includes six straight Saturdays away from home, but the holdover strength includes a fine quarterback and the personnel overall seems to outmatch Princeton's.

SPORTS In Princeton

Almost Beyond Reach. The four other Ivies, plus Rutgers, are all good enough so that a Princeton triumph over any one of them would rank as an upset of major proportions. The Scarlet, now proud owner of the nation's longest winning streak after a scintillating 11-0 performance last fall, may have its record marred by Penn State this weekend but the probability that it will continue its domination of Princeton is difficult to question. When the two teams meet here September 24, Rutgers will have two more weeks of pre-season practice and two more games on its record than the Tigers -- an extreme advantage for an early game even if player ability is about even.

Among Brown, Dartmouth, Harvard and Yale, only the Bruins may not be as strong as they were last year, a point that can be made almost entirely because few teams that were 8-1 prove capable of being 16-2 after two seasons. Co-champion with Yale in 1976, and loser only by 7-6 to Penn in a game played in a virtual swampland at Providence, the Bruins have two-thirds of their starters back and every reason to believe they can run their string over Princeton to an unprecedented five. (Once upon a time, the balance of power was so different that Brown never won a game from the Tigers between 1954 and 1973.

Tough Opener. These four teams are virtual shoo-ins to retain the first division berths in the standings they held when the firing ended last November. Dartmouth, a 33-7 victor over the Tigers in the last game of the season, will not have its offensive skills sufficiently polished to duplicate that margin on September 17, but 33 returning lettermen will give Coach Jake Crouthamel a firm foundation on which to build for a fast start.

Harvard, against which Princeton has tended to play its best in recent years, does not always reach its potential on a season-long basis, particularly in view of the solid personnel that is almost invariably wearing Crimson. To win at Cambridge, however, the Tigers will have to duplicate the astonishing performance they gave there in 1975, when they ran up 24 points before the home team got on the board and then barely hung on after yielding 20.

Yale, which comes as close to winning from Princeton as a team can merely by showing up for the action, matched Brown's 8-1 record last year – and will begin the 1977 season with a record of eight straight because it lost to the Bruins in the opener for both teams. The Elis are favored to win this year's contest, which will be played in the Bowl on September 17 – the first time in Ivy history that defending champions have met before mid-October at the earliest.

Chances are slim that any team will win them all, but Coach Carm Cozza might do it for the Blue. Whether he manages or not, that 11th straight over Princeton is almost as strong a possibility as the first ten are undebatable.

If you're considering a BMW 530i, drive a Peugeot 604.

Like the BMW 530i, the Peugeot 604 SL has power steering (ours is rack and pinion), power-assisted four-wheel disc brakes, stabilizer bars front and rear, McPherson struts, and a head-spinning ability to make tight turns.

The Peugeot 604 has also been engineered for a superior level of comfort. With oversized shock absorbers, large coil springs, a floating differential, and seats that are actually tuned to the suspension system.

And with comforts like air conditioning, fully reclining front bucket seats, and power windows—all standard equipment.

But comfort isn't the only thing that sets the 604 apart from the BMW. There's also the price. Which starts at about $11,000*. And which may be its most comforting feature of all.

SAME TEAMS ON TOP

In W. Windsor Tennis. With but one week to play in the West Windsor evening men's doubles tennis summer leagues, the teams leading the leagues for the past three weeks still remain in first place. In the early league, it appears that only a miracle can stop the leaders, Bill Christensen, Brion Midland and Bob Zochowski, from winning the title. They have 11 points, 4 ahead of the second place team of Dr. John DiPolvere, Bob Nielsen and Janis Ziedonis. Tied for third place with 6 points each are the threesomes of Olof Hogrelius, Don Luecke and Stan Tantum, and Lloyd Bronson, Jay Sexton and Jim Swartz.

In the late league, the race has narrowed down to two teams. Still leading with 12 points is the trio of Stan Katz, Richard Skalinski and Daryl Wartluft, but coming on fast just two behind is the combination of G.W. Birtwistle, Len Sobelman and Harry Wyckoff. A tie also exists for third place in this league as the team of Mike Doyle, Ray Giudice and Dave Kendall and Hank Jacobsohn, Martin Lightmen and Tom O'Kane both have 8 points.

MOMENTUM SHIFTS

In Softball Playoff. Center Sports defeated Conte's twice last week to take a 2-1 advantage in the Princeton Adult Softball League playoff.

Game two of the playoffs saw Center Sports comeback from a 6-0 deficit to defeat Conte's 10-7. Conte's drew first blood with two first-inning runs, and then added four runs in the third on six hits. Wes Cawley's three-run homer was the big blow.

Center fought back with two runs in the third and five in the fourth. Singles by Frank Caponi and Greg Kline, aided by a Conte's error produced the winning runs. Jack and Jamie Petrone led Center with three hits each. For Conte's Ed Coldren had four hits, one a homer.

In game three, Conte's once again jumped out on top with three first inning runs on four consecutive singles. After Conte's scored once more in the second, Center tied the game with four runs in the fourth on four singles and an error.

Trailing once more, 6-5, Center erupted for four runs in the sixth inning to win, 9-6. The big hit of the inning was Jack Petrone's triple. Petrone had three hits for the night as did Jerry Perpetua and Wes Cawley for Conte's.

Fox & Lazo, the largest Realtor in the Delaware Valley, is expanding into the Princeton area and is looking for dedicated sales associates.

We've been in business since 1886. Last year, we did a sales volume of $58 million.

Now we're expanding aggressively.

Into the Philadelphia Main Line. Into Bucks County.

And Central New Jersey.

The man in charge of our Princeton Junction office is Jack Burke, our vice-president.

Jack blueprinted our expansion plan. And he's looking for the kind of people he knows can make it work.

A proven sales record would be nice — but it's not mandatory. The right attitude is. And our two-week training program will get you off on the right foot.

Call or write Jack today. This is probably what you've been waiting for.

PRINCETON TOWNSHIP

This is a spacious mini-estate of over three acres offering privacy yet superb location just off the Great Road.

Particularly handsome frame and stone New Jersey farmhouse with unusually large rooms. Both the formal step-down living room and the large open-beamed study open to the stone patio so ideal for summer entertaining. There is a free-form in-ground swimming pool just beyond.

On the second floor the master's suite is particularly large and well-designed. There are three other family bedrooms, three full baths and a powder room in this outstanding country house.

A sleek contemporary house is now under construction on a 4.5 acre lot with trees and a lovely view.

Imagine breakfasting in a lush, year round subtropical garden... right in your own home. We've seen many a house with inside planters, but never one actually built around a garden. The cathedral ceilinged living room, dining room, kitchen and entry all open directly to this central skylighted garden. Another plus is 1,000 Sq. Ft. of hand crafted imported Bologna ceretic tile and Bufalini Italian marble.

Also on this level is a master bedroom with super dressing room and bath.

Curving steps go down between rocks and foliage to the children's level with three more bedrooms and a bath and a TV room which also opens to the garden. $130,000
